A FORBIDDEN AND ITS RESULT.
A very curious case was tried at the County Court, in Brantford, last week, in which, as we have already said, the instant, which arose out of the non-enforcement of C. G. Dagg, late of this place, who has since died.

Mr. Dagg having applied to a Justice of the Peace for a discount, the bank refused and discontinued for inspection and approval. The bankers refused to give approval. Some of the notes which amount to $250 - sent it to a bank agent

CHILDREN AND BABIES.

Who does not have children? Are they not the light and joy of every household? Are they not the ones to whom we devote our most precious moments? If so, it is not surprising that we should desire to protect them from every possible source of harm. For this purpose, we have prepared a special medicine, JUDSON'S WORM TEA, which is perfectly safe and effective for the treatment of all cases of intestinal worms in children. It is a pleasant-tasting liquid, and its use is attended with no pain or inconvenience. It is sold by all druggists, and its price is very moderate.

A detailed illustration of a glass bottle of Lea & Perrins Worcestershire Sauce. The bottle has a dark, rounded body and a long neck. The label on the bottle is ornate, featuring the brand name 'LEA & PERRINS' at the top, followed by 'WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE' and 'EXTRACT OF MALT'. There is also a small crest or logo on the label. The bottle is shown against a plain background.

WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE
L. & P. have discovered that several Foreign Markets have been supplied with numerous imitations of their "WORK-ERSHIRE SAUCE," the labels of which resemble those of the genuine Sauce, and in some instances with the name of
"WORKERSHIRE SAUCE."
L. & P. will proceed against any who manufacture or vend such imitations, and against their correspondents in the parts of the world, to advise them of a frustration of their designs.
